ROSMAN HIGH IS . . . steps to the future

a teacher who cares . . .

... the joy of winning - - the despair of defeat . . .

... busy hands ...

DEDICATION

A man teaches not only from books, but also by example. Whether it be in the classroom or on the playing field, he has made us aware that giving into defeat is a lack of courage. We have learned to have faith in ourselves from the faith and support he has given us. In recognition of his three years of deep concern for us, we dedicate the 1969 Oriole to COACH HOWELL.

ADMINISTRATION

To most students the word "principal" means a wooden paddle or a desk in the hall. Yet discipline is one of the least of A.L. Warren's responsibilities. His position also means working with teachers, the Superintendent and the Board of Education in planning and implementing student policies and improvements of facilities. Most important is his role in planning the best possible curriculum for Rosman students.

Mr. A. L. Warren

Mrs. Mary Jane Reese is of invaluable assistance to Mr. Warren and the teachers.

"Everyone has a problem for me!"

LANGUAGE ARTS — Keys to Communication

Language is the art of communicating our ideas spoken and written. It is also the study of our literary heritage.

As the world grows smaller our understanding of other cultures must grow larger. Therefore, students at Rosman may also elect to study French.

"Parler vous francais?"

What do you think, Debbie?

ENGLISH — "The inescapable subject."

SOCIAL STUDIES — Man's Past, Present,

and Future . . . .

The twentieth century has brought about rapid advances in communication and transportation, thus increasing the need for knowledge concerning world affairs. To prepare students for the many questions pertaining to their government and others, Rosman offers the following courses: World History, Civics and United States History.

"This is no laughing matter."

"Don't ask me!"

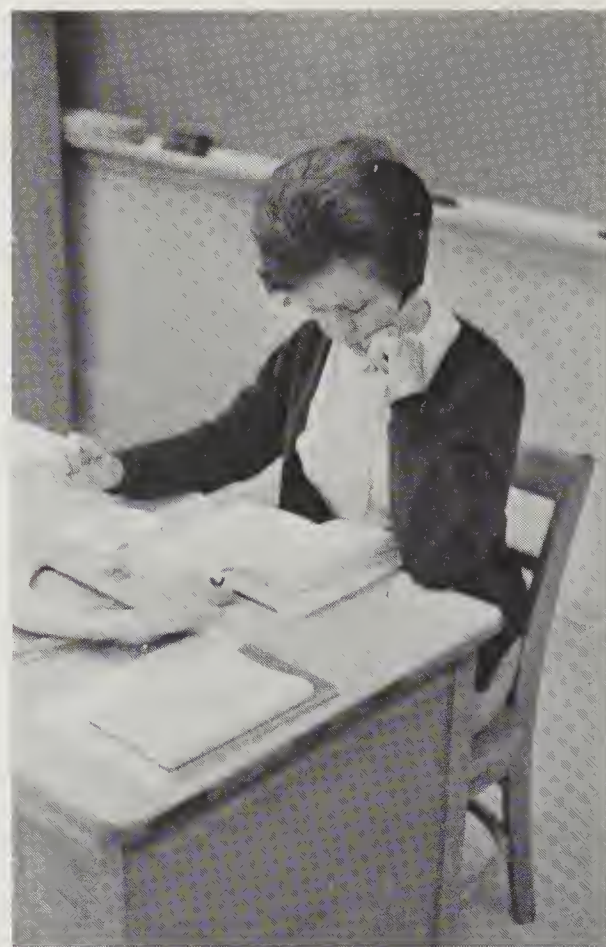

Coach, that's not Napoleon's hometown.

MATH — Experiments in Abstract Reasoning . . .

Whether we are balancing our checkbook or figuring an advance chemistry problem, mathematics plays an important role in our daily life. Students at Rosman are offered a variety of courses, including General Math, Business Math, Algebra I and II, Geometry and Trigonometry, to prepare them for the demands of a computer age.

"Now let's see."

"Get out of here!"

"Heap big many mistakes erased."

Man Enters the Space Age — SCIENCE

Dean's hobby! hair singeing!

Weighty matter?

Heart transplants and the race to the moon have made 1968–1969 a year of unparalleled scientific advances. In Chemistry, Biology and Physical Science, Rosman students explore this fast-increasing world of knowledge of man in the Space Age.

Here's the answer

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION — Preparation for Our

The Space Age has need not only for the scientist and engineer, but also for the craftsman. Students at Rosman High have an excellent opportunity to learn skills such as bricklaying and carpentry. For those unsure of their place in business, Introduction to Vocations is offered.

Carpenters' class goes Shakespeare.

The workman for ICT.

Peeling mortar? Would you believe . . . ?

Its' about this saw, boys!

Future Occupations . . .

Boys' Home Ec. Class attempts shirts.

Students in Business Administration, Industrial Cooperative Training, Home Economics, and Agriculture prepare for varied roles in the business and home world.

Typing is a valuable personal and business skill.

Girls study food preparation.

Shorthand students learn secretarial skills.

Skills for the Present and Future . . . .

Health and Physical Education is recognized by the President as one of the most important courses taught in school. Our students are taught the principles of physical fitness, and also encouraged to enjoy competitive sports.

"That'll be twenty . . ."

High-speed highways and heavy traffic require great driving ability. The Driver Education course stresses defensive driving and knowledge of safety rules.

We started with an idea – to try to capture the events of the past school year and preserve them in pictures and words. We soon found that it would be no easy task. There were pictures to be taken, captions to be written, copy to compose, and layouts to be checked over and over and over again.

There were co-operative discussions, friendly disagreements, and heated arguments. The editors were "tyrants," the typists couldn't spell, the literary staff couldn't write, and it seemed to be staff policy that no one agree on anything, anytime.

But out of this seemingly endless chaos we have somehow brought forth the 1969 ORIOLE.

JOURNALISM

With its varied topics and unusual features, the TIGER RAG provides enjoyable reading for all students. Working hard, the staff gathers news covering sports, club news, special events, and general happenings. As the deadline approaches, the click-click of the typewriters punctuated by the roar of the mimeograph machine resounds through the halls. Finally the paper is printed and ready to sell. The TIGER RAG is greeted enthusiastically by those who want to learn of the latest news.

CONCLUSION

Pat Franks, Editor of The Oriole, 1969

June, 1969, is both an end and a beginning. We look back upon a year filled with the excitement of new knowledge, the quiet moments shared with a special friend, the busy hands of club projects, the thrill of athletic competition, the first night nervousness of putting on a play, or the pride of wearing your Senior ring.

Mingled with memory, however, is anticipation. Some of us look forward to the lazy days of summer vacation, to the start of high school, or to being an upperclassman. Seniors don robes and tasseled caps for their entrance into the adult world of career, marriage, or college.

We, the Oriole Staff, hope that this annual will serve to remind each of you of the special moments that were 1969 at Rosman High.
